

During the last century, the average American lifespan almost doubled. Older Americans are living longer, staying healthier, and remaining more active and engaged in their communities than ever before. This is a cause for celebration!

Maintaining health, happiness and engagement requires thoughtful planning, wise choices, and the development of good habits. Help redefine what it means to grow old in America. "Celebrate Long-Term Living!" during Older Americans Month this May. Learn how to make the most of your later years by visiting the U.S. Administration on Aging's Web site at www.aoa.gov.
